Personal Presentation

intro- duction

I'm a content creator, social media manager, and on-camera host based in Lagos, with 3+ years of experience building engaged audiences across TikTok, Instagram Reels, and X. My roots run deep in the Solana/Web3 ecosystem

With a background in cinematography and a track record that includes 6M+ impressions on X and 300 organic TikTok followers in under 30 days, I combine storytelling instinct with real, trackable results. I'm passionate about turning complex topics into content people actually want to watch, and helping brands build authentic community rather than just chase vanity metrics.

first project

customer & Client

Customer Inquiry:

A crypto community: SuperteamNG reached out to me to enquire about having our team handle their TikTok account and grow it for them. Started from about 20 followers with no engagement except likes to over a 1000 in a matter of months. Organically too.

second project Bread Africa

The Bread team asked to help build their x audience and customer base.

Grew Bread Africa's social media following by 50% through a structured, ecosystem-driven content strategy targeting active Solana users delivering consistent follower growth over the engagement period.

I grew it by consistent tweets of relatable content and weekly spaces
